SHE GUARDED THE BURROW.

A Hound on The Track Continiously For 36 Hours.

The greatest fox chase of which there is any authentie record took place in the neighborhood of Long Branch, in Meade county, last week.

Ben Matthews, a colored man living at Long Branch has a fox hound named Queen. One evening last week, when the air was soft, Queen and her companion, Don, tegether with Jim Bickerstaff's "Old Maje" started for the hills near by and were not long absent when they started a vigorous old fox.

By their vigorous mouthing it was known that they had a warm scent and were on the trail of a fox of fine staying qualities.

For several hours during the night the residents of that vicinity could here all three hounds tongueing together and then the two male dogs dropped out of the run, leaving Queen to keep up the chase alone

All night long she followed the trail and along toward morning was joined by some fresh hounds who stayed with her for a few hours, fell out, rested up and joined in the chase again at intervals during the next twenty hours.

On the second day of the chase Will LaGrand's "Tige," a hound noted ror its staying qualities joined her and remained until the close of the run

Queen was on the run, without rest, carried to the house.

Matthews, her owner, thinks she is not trade her for the best horse in Ken-

He says the reason her mate, Don, did not stay in the race until the finish was because he had been caught in a steel trap a few days before and had one toe lopped off. Even in this crippled condition he stayed in for hours and only gaye up when the wound opened afresh and the pain prevented him from run-

This story is vouched for by John T. Ditto, who is known as an enthusiastic and truthful fox hunter.

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Face, Hands and Arms Covered With Scrotulous Humors-How a Cure Was Effected.

"When five years old my little boy had scrofula on his face, hands and arms. It on his cheeks and hands were very bad. It appeared in the form of red pimples which would fester, break open and run and then scab over. After disappearing they would break out again. They caused intense itching and the little sufferer had to be watched continually to keep him greatly alarmed at his condition. My for them. wife's mother had had scrofuls and the only medicine which had helpd her was Hood's Sarsaparilla. We decided to give it to our boy and we noted an improvement in his case very soon. After giving him four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla the humor had all been driven out of his blood and it has never since returned." WILLIAM BARTE, 416 South Williams St.,

He looked like an unsophisticated country youth. His clothes were old and ill-fitting, and exposure to the elements had made his overcoat look like Joseph's coat of biblical fame-it was one of many

He had a stolid countenance, and appeared to have been raised in the innermost depths of the wilds of Pincheco, but as Fred D'Huy said: "That boy would fool you.

Here's the story. On Thursday, a youngster, apparently about eighteen years of age, appeared at The Fair and purchased about $1.05 worth of goods. He tendered Manager Cerf a check calling for $55, and asked that it be cashed and the value of the goods be de-

The check was drawn on the Hancock Deposit Bank, of Hawesville, and purported to have been given by Captain S Baker, of Patesville, in favor of Henry

Mr. Cerf became suspicious and refused o cash the check. The deal was off. The boy next called on Ernest C. Bab-og and offered him fifty cents to cash a check for $55, but Ernest was foxy and said: "Nay, nay, Pauline" He then went to the bank and offered he check for payment. Cashier Skillman questioned the boy closely. He said the check was in payment for services he had rendered Cartain Baker and also for cattle he had sold the latter. He said he told so plausible a tale that the bank officials finally cashed the check. The youth then went to F. N. D'Huy's, where he bought a $38 gold watch, and offered another check for $55. It was drawn on the same parties, and was identically the same as the first check. Mr. D'Huy took the check to the bank to see if it was good, and this caused the officials to believe that something was rotten in Denmark, and they went to the boy and took the $55 in each that had been paid on the check by the bank away from him.

Mr D'Huy's deal was off. The youth still had another check for $55 on his person, and he went over to F. Fraize's, where he purchased $7 worth of merchandise, presented the check in payment and received $48 in change.

He then skipped out. Search was made for him and it is unlerstood that detective Hicks Wills has aim located and will have him under ar

President Praises a Well-Known Educator.

Says the Guston correspondent:

Here is a great compliment to Mr. W Lopp, formerly of Harrison county-Ind., but who is at present and has been for the past 10 or 15 years teaching school in Alaska under the employment of uncle Sam. It will be remembered that Mr. Lopp gave an entertainment and lecture here in Guston, a kind of magic lantern show representing scenes in Alaska and Greenland. He is a brother to Mrs. Baxter, wife of Dr. A. A. Baxter, pliment and honor from the President himself in his message to Congress, and is in part as follows: "The bardships and perils encountered by the members of the overland expedition in their great journey through an almost uninhabited region, a barren waste of ice and snow, facing death itself every day for nearly four months over a route never before traveled by white men, with no refuge, but at the end of the journey carrying relief and cheer to 275 distressed citizens of our country, all make another gloriof our country, all make another glorious page in the history of American heroes." The President concludes by asking the thanks of Congress to the officers and men of the party with gold medals of honor to those of the overland expedition and $2 500 for the bestowal of rewards to W. T. Lepp and native herders who aided the relief expedition. They assisted the crew of the "Bear" in rescueing a whaling fleet.
